THE MR. L.A. LEATHER BEAR 2019 CONTEST RUNDOWN

The weekend of the contest will be a busy time for you. There is a lot that goes into running for a title and BEARS LA wants to make your experience as stress free and fun as possible. The following is a rundown of the weekend and what to expect:

Thursday: Meet & Greet With Number Draw

This is a night of socializing with both the judges and the public. Each contestant will meet with the judges individually for approximately 5-10 minutes in a casual bar setting so the judges can get to know you one on one. It will be done in a round-robin fashion, with your Den Daddy taking you to meet each judge. Each contestant will be brought on stage at the event. The emcee's will introduce you for the first time to the public. Be prepared to interact with the emcees. Once all contestants are on stage, you will draw a number and this will determine your order for the contest.

Dress code for the night: What you wear is up to you, but remember, this is a leather contest and first impressions with the public and judges are important.

Friday: BEARS LA Dinner

This is a social event for the general public and optional for contestants to attend. If you decide to come, you will receive a complimentary meal courtesy of BEARS LA.

Dress code: What you wear is up to you.

Saturday: Contest Day

Interviews with the judges take place at Eagle LA. Your interview order is determined by the number drawn the night before. You will be interviewed by all of the judges at the same time. Interviews will last between 10-15 minutes. When all interviews are finished, you will have an opportunity to go back before the judges to follow up on any questions that you need to answer.

Dress Code: Wear what makes you feel comfortable and represents you as a leather man. Interviews are worth 40% of your score.

Saturday: Contest Night

You will have a call time of 8PM the night of the contest with a start time of 9PM. You will have plenty of time to change between each round. Your Den Daddy will be there to assist you in changing. Make sure your leather is stage ready the night of the contest. No round starts until each contestant is dressed and ready to go.

Round one: Formal Wear and Speech.

Each contestant comes on stage and has 90 seconds to give a speech. The content of the speech is up to you. It's your time to let the audience learn more about you. If you go over your time limit, points will be deducted and at 10 seconds over, your mic will be cut. All contestants will be brought back on stage at the end of the round for one final look.

Dress Code: Formal Leather. Formal Wear and Speech is 20% of your score.

Round two: Bar Wear

Each contestant comes on stage individually where the emcee(s) will read your bio and then ask you a serious question. After all contestants have had their turn, you will all be brought back on stage together for one more look.

Dress Code: What you like to wear to a night out at the bar. Bar Wear is 20% of your score.

Round three: Jock/Comfort Wear

Each contestant comes on stage individually where one of the emcees reads your fantasy and then asks you a funny question. As the emcee is reading your fantasy, this is the time to work the stage. You can model and pose or you can be creative and act out the fantasy. After that, the emcee(s) will ask you a funny question. All contestants will be brought back on stage at the end of the round for one more look.

Dress Code: Whatever you think makes you look sexy and hot. Be advised that you cannot show your asshole on stage, so no bending over if you are in a jock. Jock/Comfort Wear is 20% of your score.

After this round, BEARS LA will send each contestant into the crowd with a bucket for approximately 10-15 minutes to collect money from the audience. This is a chance for you to interact with the audience. The money raised will go into the Mr. LA Leather Bear 2025 travel fund. No points are awarded for this.

There will be a break after so the Tally Master can add all the scores. Once done, all contestants will be called back on stage and the First Runner Up will be announced followed by the announcement of Mr. L.A. Leather Bear 2025. After the winner is announced, all contestants must be prepared to take pictures on stage. Your Den Daddy will help direct you with this. Also, the winner will be asked to step into LA Band of Brothers spider web.

Victory Celebration

The Victory Celebration starts at 3PM. It's time to celebrate the winner!

Dress Code: Whatever you want to wear. The winner tends to come in formal leather. As Mr. LA Leather Bear 2025, make sure to wear your medal and title sash.
